ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

Good evening and welcome to Arden's 2014 Awards Ceremony. Tonight we celebrate the fantastic personal and academic achievements of our Year 11 and Year 13 students.

The Year 11 Class of 2014 truly excelled in their achievements. Once again almost 100% of our pupils achieved 5 A*- C grades. Of these over 85% achieved the gold standard of 5 A*- C including English and Mathematics. The students reached their challenging targets and we were particularly pleased that we achieved such truly impressive results when the bar has been significantly raised nationally and the exam system has changed. We saw breathtaking performance in all areas of GCSE and the vocational examination subjects. Our students continued to excel at the top grades of A* and A. This increased this year with over a third of our students achieving these grades in 8 or more of their subjects.

There have also been many individual success stories. The following students gained at least 10 A* or A grades: Amy Allen, Selina Chan, Charlie Corden, William Cutbill, Cara Douglas, Catherine Edwards, Lauren Hockley, William Howell, Benjamin Jones, Emilia Kudanowska, Jacob Lamb, Mark Lumb, Harveen Marwaha, Conor McGoldrick, Natalia Nicholson, Ben Northam, Sarah Parker, Sophie Peasley, William Penny, Scott Pinwell, Matthew Rice, Danielle Rose, Eleanor Royle, Martha Sanders, Joseph Savage, Rebecca Scott, Cameron Scriven, William Stride, Chloe Thomas, Harry Thompstone, Eleanor Tomkins, Kyle Turner, Katherine Verduyn and Alison Wilcock. However, the most outstanding results were achieved by Mary Keast who gained A* in every one of her 11 GCSE subjects.

The Year 13 Class of 2014, have also performed incredibly well in their A Level examinations. Once again the bar had been raised nationally. So, it was with great pride we reported a pass rate of 99.2% with nearly two thirds of our students gaining the prestigious A*-B grades. The average point score for students at 841 is a record for Arden and over 86% of all grades were above grade C. We are very proud of the achievements of every single one of our students who have now moved on to the many exciting challenges, be that at University or in employment.

With all students doing so well it is hard to single out special praise but I must specifically congratulate Maddie Parkin who is now at the University of Cambridge studying Modern Languages and Chris Cottell who is reading Music at the University of Oxford. We have students at Medical School (Adam Bennett, Sam Craven and Chloe Reynolds) and Katie Winstone is working incredibly hard on her course in Veterinary Medicine at The University of Liverpool. There were many individual successes however the following students all achieved 3 A grades or better: Adam Bennett, Tom Biddle, Michael Bolton, Kieran Brown, Chris Bull, Antonio Cantone, James Chamley, Chris Cottell, Sam Craven, Mollie Delaney, Siân Fedeski, Alice Flannery, Ben Morris, Will Norris, Lizzie Orr, Maddie Parkin, Andrew Penny, Alix Reynolds, Chloe Reynolds, Hannah Robbins, Harry Robinson, Matthew Seaton, Katie Winstone, James Yates.

The examination year groups in 2014 were a credit to the school, themselves and their parents. They were both marvelous year groups in every sense not only performing superbly in the academic arena but in the help and support they gave to younger students through mentoring, the fundraising they accomplished and the relationships they built with all members of the local community.

I must also thank all my colleagues who are an outstanding team of staff who guided, coached and inspired our students. Without their professional expertise, stamina and endless patience these results would not have been achieved. I know I speak for all the teaching staff here at Arden who enjoyed working with them so much, the Governors who have watched with interest the progress of this year group in these changing educational times and the support staff who have always had such special relationships with our students in wishing every single one of them a most happy and successful future.

Tonight is a night of celebration for our children. They are our greatest asset and our desire for them to succeed in a happy, safe environment underpins our work and provides direction for all that we do. From the age of 11 we offer chances for them to become exploratory and creative in their learning. Arden has no limits and we strive every day to improve; tonight is our chance to share our success with you.

Martin Murphy

THE PERFORMING ARTS - MUSIC

Extra-curricular music opportunities have continued to engage and inspire hundreds of Arden students. There are over fourteen ensembles during a school week, including Senior Choir, B.A.T.S., Ardenaires, Lower School Band, String Orchestra, Chamber Choir, Guitar Group and Brass Band.

At the beginning of the last academic year, four very talented young men in Year 11 formed a superb Barbershop quartet named 'Four on the Floor'. After a stunning debut in the Upper School Christmas Concert they've taken audiences by storm around the Midlands; from radio appearances to national barbershop competitions. The Ardenaires big band and B.A.T.S. choir also continue to be in great demand, playing at numerous events.

The Upper School Spring Concert took place at the fantastic Bushell Hall, Solihull School with an incredible range of music on offer, including all of our Upper school ensembles. The concert got off to a great start with a lively performance of 'I am the Doctor' by the String Orchestra, arranged and conducted by Miss Gosling. The Chamber Choir continued with their breathtaking performance of Whitacre's 'Seal Lullaby'. The solo and small ensembles were also astonishing, including a performance of the 'Trout Quintet' and a lively Little Shop of Horrors reunion. The Senior Windband closed the concert with a substantial and extremely demanding set, including a stunning performance of 'Selections from Wicked'. This concert provided a wonderful way to say goodbye and thank you to those musicians leaving us at the end of Years 11 and 13.

As part of the World War One commemoration Year 10 singers and musicians arranged and performed a medley of Wartime favourites including 'It's a Long Way to Tipperary', 'Daisy Bell' and 'Pack up your Troubles in your old Kit Bag'.

The academic year was once again brought to an end by the traditional House Music competition involving a huge range of musicians, singers and dancers competing. The most striking feature of this musical spectacular is the warmth, encouragement and support shown to all the performers by over five hundred of their peers.

THE PERFORMING ARTS - DANCE

Dance is well catered for at Arden, forming an important strand of the PE curriculum throughout all year groups, with the option to specialise in GCSE Dance and A-level Dance. The last year has seen the boys taking part in dance blocks, having been enthused by the male PE staff in Tribal Dance through the Haka, Sporting Actions in Dance and Choreography. It has been exciting to see the boys' enthusiasm for dance, both in curriculum time and through our extra-curricular clubs. The Dance Department has continued to provide a wide variety of activities for all pupils in extra-curricular time. The biggest development this year is the student leadership of dance clubs. Katie Harcourt and Megan Burn have shown outstanding dedication in inspiring their peers through contemporary and commercial dance clubs. Arden Dance Company continues to be over subscribed and very popular; the company meet twice a week to improve technique and creativity and devise contemporary dance pieces. It is led by Mrs Churchill and Miss Battle, but all pupils involved have input into the creativity. The success of this company has resulted in a waiting list of students eager to participate.

Public Performances also remain important, the September Open Evening wowed audiences with talented performances in Irish Dance, Ballet, Contemporary, Street and Latin. The students conducted themselves with the upmost professionalism, combining excellent technique with outstanding performances. The Open Evening behind us, we moved onto the school production; some 40 pupils from all age groups and dance backgrounds formed the dance group. Pupils were encouraged to take responsibility for their performances throughout rehearsals; they did so remarkably well, resulting in a polished performance. More recently the dancers were invited to perform at The Solihull Schools' Dance Festival, where they impressed with a piece about conformity. Dance courses continue to be popular amongst those wishing to improve their dance skills, broaden their dance knowledge and develop choreographic skills. Results continue to improve, which is a testament to the students' hard work and dedication to their studies. Ever-more Arden Sixth Formers are also now choosing to further their dance experience post-16, which is very encouraging to see.

THE PERFORMING ARTS - DRAMA

Production 2014 'The Little Shop of Horrors'

Last year the Arden Academy production was Little Shop of Horrors. With 186 pupils participating both on and off stage it really was an exciting experience for all involved. It is true to say we have an abundance of talent here at Arden and choosing amongst our excellent students to cast the lead roles gets harder every year.

The man-eating plant from outer space certainly gave the characters the run around, growing from a small hand puppet to a two-student operated beast that devoured most of the lead actors.

There were outstanding performances from all those involved. Megan Evans provided the silky tones of the plant, Dannielle Rose literally stunned the audience with her exceptional vocal delivery, whilst Morgan Scriven's outlandish performance as the psychotic dentist certainly captured his depraved tendencies as he loomed over a quivering Harvey Grant waving a rusty drill in his hand. Charles Toogood joined the cast three months into the rehearsal period as Seymour, the unlikely hero, not that anyone would have realised.

In addition to a huge backstage and sound and lighting crew, hair and make-up artists, costume and prop designers, the musical was once again accompanied by an all-star student band who, having rehearsed since early October, contributed greatly to the overall professional ethos of this years production. And next year? FAME!

Spotlights 2014

This year also saw the first Arden 'Spotlights' where pupils were honoured and recognised for their contribution to the Performing Arts Department. Amongst the many awards there were prizes for Best Actor, Dedication to Drama, Best Ensemble Performance, Best Solo Vocals, Musician of the Year, and Contribution to Music.

It was such an amazing evening with pupils and teachers dressed for the red carpet occasion. It was a fantastic evening providing an opportunity to celebrate the talent and commitment of our pupils.

SPORTING ACHIEVEMENTS

Sport plays an integral role in school life and personal development for many Arden students. The numerous opportunities to participate enable students to gain a lifelong passion for participation in exercise and sport, as well as important skills like teamwork, commitment, leadership and discipline. Whether a student's goal is elite performance, team spirit or simply the pure enjoyment of participation, Arden's rich range of curricular and extra-curricular sports ensures all our students can get involved, find their niche and fulfill their potential.

Arden's philosophy is based upon participation, where all children are welcome to attend extra-curricular clubs that develop and improve their individual skills and provide the added health and social benefits of physical activity. There are also regular 'friendly fixtures' and coaching games against children from other schools. By fielding two or three teams when opportunities arise, we ensure every child has the chance to take part. Successes at county, regional and national level have also been achieved by many Arden individuals and teams; a testament to our students' sporting talent, dedication and devotion.

In the past year a number of new sporting opportunities have arisen, including Rowing, Golf and Lacrosse. Another exciting development has been that of Sport Leaders and Sport Ambassadors. These are usually older students who want to help run sports clubs, teams and primary school sport where they can pass on their passion and experience to younger students. These Leaders and Ambassadors enable many more clubs and teams to be run successfully, becoming valued positive Arden role models with fantastic leadership skills who generously give their time and expertise to help maintain our outstanding level of sports participation.

Numerous people have helped enable Arden pupils to achieve sporting excellence, including parents, staff, governors and sport leaders, we are all very proud of the sporting success at Arden and would like to thank everyone who've supported the PE Department in delivering the very best in extra-curricular activities. The following teams have been particularly successful this year:
